

Dining Hall

46 Dalrymple Road, Marlboro, VT | 6,100 sf

Built in 1860, the multipurpose Dining Hall is one of Potash Hill's original, historic farm buildings. It's an excellent example of vernacular Federal and Greek Revival architecture in Vermont.

- Large dining room comfortably seats 200+ for meals and conversation
- Adaptable as venue with performance stage, retractable movie screen
- Fully-equipped institutional kitchen with brand-new stove, walk-in fridge and freezer, indoor storage areas, loading dock
- Private dining room (and flex space); four bathrooms
- Second-floor has four rooms for office/lounge space
- Fiber internet
- Maintained by Potash Hill's on-site facilities team

For more information or to schedule a tour, contact

Brian Mooney
Managing Director

bmooney@potashhill.org
(802) 258-9211 (office)

Campus Center

86 Random Road, Marlboro, VT | 4,200 sf

A versatile building in the center of campus offering many recreational and dining options. A spacious outdoor deck overlooks a terraced landscape.

- Café ready with a commercial kitchen, plenty of seating, and a movable bar
- Game room with pool and ping pong tables, foosball, and shuffleboard
- Mailboxes and mailroom
- Separate 600 sf room that's ideal for a bookstore, office, or storage
- Fiber internet
- Maintained by Potash Hill's on-site facilities team

For more information or to schedule a tour, contact

Brian Mooney
Managing Director

bmooney@potashhill.org
(802) 258-9211 (office)

Health Center

88 Random Road, Marlboro, VT | 5,088 sf

Attached to the Campus Center, this adaptable building can be a home for wellness and counseling, or it can be modified for other uses. An administrative hub, perhaps, or comfortable, quiet studios for art and writing.

- Three floors with elevator
- Reception area and lobby
- Nine private exam rooms, counseling offices, and convening rooms
- Ground floor fitness room with exercise equipment and weights
- Fiber internet
- Maintained by Potash Hill's on-site facilities team

For more information or to schedule a tour, contact

Brian Mooney
Managing Director

bmooney@potashhill.org
(802) 258-9211 (office)

Rice-Aron Library

64 Dalrymple Road & 361 Theater Road, Marlboro, VT | 25,700 sf

The largest building on campus. The original library has a lovely aperture in the upper floor to the level below, and the Aron wing has ample floor space, panoramic window views, and many office and meeting rooms.

- More than a library—look beyond the shelves to the opportunity of huge square footage
- Three levels with an elevator
- Downstairs social area and patio
- Well-appointed offices, meeting rooms, flex space
- Private reading deck with views to Massachusetts
- Fiber internet
- Maintained by Potash Hill's on-site facilities team

For more information or to schedule a tour, contact

Brian Mooney
Managing Director

bmooney@potashhill.org
(802) 258-9211 (office)

